4,952 Cast Vote In Choice '68

By LEE STEPHENSON
Staff Writer

An astounding 61 per cent turnout marked success for April 24's Choice '68. The ballots were sent to New York to be counted by Time Magazine, who sponsored the event including more than 1500 campuses nationwide.

However a 10 per cent sampling of all votes cast was taken by Lee McClelland, junior in the College of Liberal Arts, who was the student in charge of the project intended to measure college students' attitudes.

Based on a random ten per cent sampling from each dormitory or voting center the candidates on the first choice ballot tallied as follows: Richard Nixon, 135; Robert Kennedy, 126; Eugene McCarthy, 93; Nelson Rockefeller, 55; John Lindsay, 32; President Lyndon Johnson, 24; Charles Percy, 12; Ronald Reagan, 8; George Wallace, 7; Mark Hatfield, 5; Vice-President Hubert Humphrey, 4 (write-in); Dick Gregory, 2 (write-in); Harold Stassen, 1.

The total number of students voting was 4925. "The vote on campus was outstanding," McClelland said enthusiastically.

Anderson Hall had the best turnout percentage of residents with 83.8 per cent. Darrow and Bromfield Halls followed with 82.7 and 78.8 per cent respectively. Compton Hall had the lowest voting percentage with 42.5 per cent. The overall resident voting percentage was 64.1 per cent.

The three questions concerning U.S. foreign and domestic policy were also tabulated on a ten per cent random basis as follows:

1. What course of military action should the U.S. pursue in Vietnam?

a) Phased reduction of U.S. military activity -- 227.
b) Immediate withdrawal -- 104.
c) All out U.S. military effort -- 96.
d) Maintain current level of U.S. military activity -- 43.
e) Increase level of U.S. military activity -- 37.

2. What course of action should the U.S. pursue in regard to bombing in North Vietnam?

a) Temporary suspension of bombing -- 162.

b) Permanent suspension of bombing -- 136.

c) Intensify bombing -- 107.
d) Maintain current level of bombing -- 64.

e) Use of nuclear weapons -- 13.
3. In confronting the urban crisis, which should receive highest priority in government spending?

a) Job training and employment opportunity -- 197.

b) Education -- 189.

c) Riot control and stricter law enforcement -- 56.
d) Housing -- 35.
e) Income subsidy -- 5.

New Ambulance In-- Exit White Elephant

A new ambulance is on its way to Bowling Green State University.

The 1966, white Pontiac ambulance, purchased from the Superior Coach Company, Lima, for $5250 will replace the 14 year old Cadillac ambulance which has served the University for the past 4 years.

Last fall a series of articles appearing in the News brought the situation of the old ambulance to the attention of the students and administration.

Since then, negotiations for a new ambulance have been going on, according to Dr. James G. Bond, vice-president of student affairs.

It has taken six months to complete agreements and to purchase the vehicle because of the budget.

"The University is working on such a tight budget that we had to wait until money accumulated in one area so that we could transfer it to the ambulance fund," said Dr. Bond.

The ambulance is due to arrive, fully equipped, next week. It will continue to be operated by campus security, headed by Spencer T. Calcamuggio.

The vehicle was chosen over an emergency-equipped station wagon on the recommendation of the Health Service Advisory Committee, composed of faculty and students.

They felt that a station wagon would not be adequate in case of disaster, said Dr. Bond.

Board Seeks

UAO Directors

Anyone interested in running for Union director-at-large must pick up an application and make an appointment in the Union Activities Organization office before 4 p.m. today.

It is not necessary that the applicant have prior experience in the UAO. The position is responsible for representing the campus at large on the Union Board of Directors.

Primary Necessary In Council Elections

A student body primary election will be held next Wednesday for sophomore and junior class representatives to Student Council.

Provisions for student body elections state: "In the event that there are more than four candidates for a Student Body Office or candidates for a Council Representative position, an all-campus primary will be held to reduce the number to four and eight, respectively."

In the preliminary election race, nine petitions have been filed for junior class representatives, and ten for sophomore representatives.

Voting will be held in the University Union from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Senator Here!

Senator Albert Gore (D.-Tenn.) will be on campus Tuesday, April 30, to speak on "Vietnam Negotiations." He will be speaking in the Amphitheater behind the Union at 2:00 p.m.

A press conference will be held at 11 a.m. in the River Room of the Union. The Undergraduate Alumni Association is sponsoring the program.

A student identification card must be presented in order to vote, and only those becoming sophomores and juniors are eligible to vote.

Sixty-four applications have been filed for the various student body and class office positions.

BG Students Off To Aid Favorites In Indiana Test

Migration weekend for Bowling Green students will take place again--this one in time for the Indiana Democratic primaries.

Heading out this weekend for the Fort Wayne area will be the newly formed Citizens for Kennedy Club. The Youth for McCarthy club will cover the Richmond area.

Organized five days ago the Kennedy Club quickly attracted 190 initial supporters. Twenty of these members will be campaigning this weekend.

In conjunction with the Indiana Democrats for Kennedy, the University students will campaign door-to-door, place phone calls and distribute literature. All of this in an attempt to get Kennedy supporters out for the May 7 primaries.

All volunteers for the campaign will leave today and return Sunday. The club is planning another trip to the Fort Wayne area next weekend.

"Any student wishing to take part in the campaign can sign up at the Kennedy table in University Hall," said Don Stricker, one of the organizers of the club.

Approximately 40 members of the Youth for McCarthy Club will leave, from the Union, for Richmond at 7:30 a.m.

Thirty thousand college students are expected to be campaigning for McCarthy in Indiana this weekend. The mass campaign was organized by the National McCarthy for President Club in Washington.

The club will participate in door-to-door, and phone campaigning. They will also help with office work and arrange transportation for people who can not get to the polls.

A trip is also being planned for next weekend. Free transportation and rooms will be provided for all volunteers.

Students who would like to participate may call 354-1894 or 353-0200.

In Vietnam Week Talks

U.S. Viet Role Supported

By KAY NICKEL
and
RICHARD WERNER
Staff Writers

Three speakers upheld the United States' commitment in Vietnam at a lecture Wednesday, in Chapman Hall.

Walter Hart, Toledo insurance agent who served in World War II, expressed his convictions, while David A. Keene, national vice-chairman of Young Americans for Freedom, and Carol McEldowney, who has traveled in Vietnam and spoken to leaders of both North and South Vietnam, upheld Mr. Hart's position of the justification of the war.

Mr. Hart, the Americanism chairman of the Toledo post of the American Legion, was the first of three speakers who addressed an audience of 40 people on the Vietnam issue.

He said that the Vietnam issue can be divided into four broad areas.

The first is the area questioning why the United States is in Vietnam. He stated simply that the reason the U.S. is there is because we were asked to be there.

The second area regards the legality of the effort that the United States has there. In support of this he stated that the United States made a commitment through the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) treaty that is being honored by the United States and six of the eight member nations who signed the treaty.

The next area dealt with the justification for our staying in the war torn country. Again he referred to the SEATO treaty and said that the "United States won't pull out under any circumstances unless an honorable peace is established."

In regards to the fourth issue, that of the war itself, he said, "The administration is playing politics with soldiers! We trade with the countries who support the North's war effort and sell them (referring to Russia and Red China) the direct war supplies that are being used to kill our men in the war. Britain, France, and others are guilty of the same thing."

The second speaker for the evening was Miss Carol McEldowney, a political science graduate of the University of Michigan, who has recently traveled to Vietnam to view the war first hand.

"The United States has been involved in a no win war simply because we can't win the war. The residents of Vietnam have mistered a way of life that defies the type of war that the government is waging," she said.

"The real issue for the U.S. involvement lies in economic factors. We live in a time when different nations are evolving new societies and new governments to meet their needs," she said. "We should allow the nations to make their own choice as to the type of rule that they wish to live under."

Rounding out the lecture was Mr. David A. Keene, national vice-chairman of Young Americans for Freedom.

Mr. Keene feels that since "83 per cent of the voters turned out in the 1967 elections, among strong Communist threats, to elect the type of government that they wanted, that the people of the country really do not want the Communist type of government that they have been exposed to for ten years."

"The U.S. is there because our reasons mesh with their reasons. We are allied with common goals and common needs, so we have banded together to reach these goals."

"Leaders of the surrounding countries also back the U.S. because they feel that soon it will be their heads on the block next,"

From Our Readers

Going Too Far

The last two or three weeks has found the BG News editorial section preoccupied with the fact of discrimination on campus. The whole United States, for that matter, has been in an uproar, especially since the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. In fact yesterday's paper had an article dealing with the naming of the university library in honor of Dr. King.

Now this, we feel, is going too far. Talk about discrimination! People are getting so worried about discriminating against the colored in this nation, that they have actually gone so far as to hire colored before whites. And now, a petition has been signed to honor Dr. King on this campus.

This, too, we feel is going too far. Why not name the library in honor of George Lincoln Rockwell? Or perhaps the late John F. Kennedy? Or if it must be named, why not after someone who has done something for the university directly?

Quick Survey

We, the undersigned, would like to question the advisability of naming the University library after the slain civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

A quick survey of the buildings on campus indicates to us that the tradition at Bowling Green has been to name prominent structures after outstanding individuals and leaders such as our founding Fathers, past University presidents, outstanding faculty members and noted athletic personnel who serve as a constant reminder of those who were dedicated and instrumental in the development of this University.

Not denying the greatness of Dr. King, we feel that the naming of the University library should reflect the achievements of an individual directly associated with Bowling Green State University.

All Wrong

I find it necessary to inform Bill Moes (Weds., April 24, News) that our nomination of Richard Nixon and John Lindsay was in no way unconstitutional. Although Mr. Moes quoted the Constitution correctly, he unfortunately misinterpreted it.

Number one, the Constitution concerns itself with the voting of the Electors in the Electoral College, but in no way mentions or is concerned with the individual Party's nomination.

Number two, if Nixon and Lindsay had been nominated and did win the election it would not be unconstitutional. Although New York would not be able to vote for both Nixon and Lindsay, the other 49 states along with the District of Columbia would be able to do so.

Therefore, although it would be impractical, improbable, and contrary to American political practices, it would not be unconstitutional for Richard Nixon and John Lindsay to become the next President and Vice President of the United States.

"REFLECTIONS"

The Pride And The Greatness

By Eric Hoffer

When I talk to American students and teachers about common Americans it is as if I was talking about mysterious people living on a mysterious continent.

They write books about us. They say we are a mass of brainless saps and automatic ghouls. Someone tells us how to vote, what to buy, how to live.

They ignore the fact that we elected Roosevelt four times in the teeth of all the newspapers, in the teeth of Wall Street. And we elected Truman when all the newspapers said Dewey was elected.

I remember the picture when Truman was sworn in--all the great brains standing around and wondering, "Look who is being sworn in as President."

Now the Trumans are a dime a dozen in this country. You can almost close your eyes, reach over to the sidewalk, and make a man President--and he'll turn out to be a Truman. Show me a society anywhere that can supply potential leaders like that. It's breathtaking.

Who among the intellectuals would have predicted that a machine politician, patronized by the Knowlands, here in Oakland, California, would become Chief Justice Earl Warren; that a hack politician endorsed by the Ku Klux Klan would become Justice Hugo Black; that a bankrupt haberdasher, who was given his start by the corrupt Pendergast machine, would become President Harry Truman; that Johnson, a Southern politician, would push through the civil rights legislation?

I have lived with Trumans and Johnsons all my life. To me they are the pride and the greatness of this country, and they know how to defend it. When Johnson gets a job you do not presume to tell him how to do it. You have faith in his competence, and his capacity to learn. You know he will do whatever he does the best way he knows how. You also know that the Johnsons don't scare, and will not swerve from their path.

It is the unique greatness of this country that it has many Trumans and Johnsons. To us, Johnson in the White House is not a hero, but one of us, saddled with the toughest job in the world, and trying to do his best. If he fails, we fail; if he succeeds, we succeed.

The News welcomes letters to the editor. Letters should be typewritten and signed by the author and carry his typewritten name, address and phone number.

Our Election Plans

By MIKE KUHLIN
Editorial Editor

Monday the News begins a week and a half of election news and opinions culminating in the all-campus election May 8. During this period the paper will make space available for every candidate to make a statement to his constituents through a press conference, personal interviews, and "free space."

A week from Tuesday the News will make its endorsements. We will carefully scrutinize candidates for student body offices, class representatives and class presidents.

Candidates for student body vice president, secretary and treasurer, class officers and representatives, are offered the opportunity to make statements to a maximum of 100 words for print. The deadline is noon on Tuesday, April 30, in the News office.

Hopefuls for student body secretary, student body treasurer and class president will be personally interviewed by members of the News' editorial board. The interviews will be held Monday, after 12 p.m., in the News office. Candidates are asked to come to the News office to sign up.

Those running for student body president are asked to submit their platform to the News by noon on Wednesday, May 1. Length of the article is not to exceed 300 words.

Student body president and vice president candidates will face the campus during a News sponsored press conference. The session will be held at 7 p.m., Thursday, May 2, in the new Educational Building auditorium. The candidates will make five to six minute speeches followed by a question and answer period with members of the press and audience. The public is invited to attend.

We will announce our endorsements in the following Tuesday's edition (May 7), followed by the election on Wednesday. The News' editorial board plans to say not only "who" but also "why." Most importantly, the plan is to provide news about each candidate and encourage all students to make an intelligent voting decision.

Journalism Fete Honors Students

Nearly 400 high school students representing more than 50 schools in Northwestern Ohio will be present at the 30th Annual NODJA Awards Dinner in the Grand Ballroom this evening.

7 To Receive Scholarships In Business

The College of Business Administration will select recipients for one Alcoa Scholarship of $750 and six Alumni Scholarships of $200 each.

Advisors of undergraduates in the College of Business should nominate any of their advisees who they feel should be considered for these scholarships.

The primary factor in selecting the recipients will be their academic record, but consideration will be given to the financial need of the student and other scholarships held by the individual.

Eligible individuals must be full-time students in the College of Business.

The annual event is sponsored by the NODJA (Northwestern Ohio District Journalism Association) in cooperation with "The Blade" and the school of journalism.

Four scholarships are to be awarded at the Dinner for incoming freshmen who major in journalism.

NODJA is offering a $300 scholarship and Sigma Delta Chi (men's professional journalism society) a $225 scholarship. The other two scholarships will be presented by the B-G News and The Key.

Five newspapers will be awarded trophies for finishing first in one of the following categories: large and small offset printing, large and small mimeograph, and letter-press.

All school newspapers will receive certificates of rating from the NODJA.

The Blade will be awarding six trophies for the first place finishers in the categories of photography, sports, column, feature, editorial, and news writing. The awards will be presented by Don Wolfe, assistant managing editor of the Blade.

The 400 students will come from some 25 counties in Northwestern Ohio.

First Of Three

Talks On Marriage Begin

The first of a three-part series on marriage, co-sponsored by Kappa Delta social sorority and the United Christian Fellowship, will be presented at 9 p.m. Sunday, in the Kappa Delta house.

Each of the three programs will consist of a fifteen to twenty minute informal talk followed by a question and answer period.

Courtship will be the topic of discussion for the first program.

The second program will be at 9 p.m., Sunday, May 5, in the Kappa Delta house. Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Gerner will discuss interpersonal relationships. Dr. Gerner is acting director of the United Christian Fellowship.

Family planning will be the subject of the final program. It will be presented at 9 p.m., May 12, also in the Kappa Delta house.

"We think that students, especially those anticipating marriage, can gain from a guided discussion of some of the main problems that they are likely to encounter in a marriage relationship," stated a representative of the co-sponsors.

The marriage series is open to all University students.

Scholarships Planned By Sophs

The distribution of three $125 scholarships to members of the sophomore class is the first objective of a new sophomore committee--The Academic Investment Program.

Any student who will be a junior next fall is eligible if he meets the following requirements.

He must have a minimum grade point average of 2.5 for the past three semesters, and cannot be receiving more than $750 in financial aid through scholarships, grants, or loans.

Also, he must be holding a job or be a member of a recognized University organization.

He must attend the University for his entire junior year. Transfer students are eligible if they have arrived at the beginning of their sophomore year.

Within the next few weeks every sophomore will receive a letter concerning the scholarship program. Interested students must fill out the slip provided at the bottom of the letter. An additional form to be filled out will be supplied by the Financial Aid Office where choices for final selection will be narrowed down.

Final selection of the three students to be awarded the scholarships will be chosen by a committee comprised of Mr. Robert E. McKay, Financial Aid Director, the Sophomore Class Officers, and other members of the administration.

This committee hopes to award the scholarships by the end of this school year. If they are unable to do so, the scholarships will be given out in the fall of 1968.

The names of those students who apply for the scholarships but do not receive them, will remain in the Financial Aid Office. Here the students are eligible for other scholarships.

The Sophomore Class also plans to include other projects under the Academic Investment Program. The class hopes to eventually make donations to the Library and to the various departments and colleges.

Folk Songs Set For 'Happening'

Irish folk songs, the blues and American folk-rock will all be sounding from the Carnation Room tomorrow night.

The artists, all from the Cleveland area, have been gathered together for this concert by the UAO and the Folk Club. The "happening" begins at 9 and tickets are 50 cents.

Gusti and Sean will present the Irish songs. They have played at Fagan's Beacon House in Cleveland and at the Kent State Folk Music Festival. Their specialties are Irish drinking songs and songs of rebellion.

At Fagan's they sing such songs as "Finnegan's Wake," "Roddy McCorely," "Danny Boy" and "The Holy Ground." Once in a while -- when the audience gets too heated -- they sing an American folk song to prevent an uprising.

The blues, and some folk music, will be sung by Alex Bevan. He has played at LaCave, Faranger's, Diogenes, the Lantern and The Needle's Eye, all in the Cleveland and Kent State area.

According to one of the members of the Folk Club, Bevan has played at places ranging from street corners to concert halls.

GUSTI AND SEAN -- Irish folksingers will be at the Carnation Room tonight.

'Pot Of Gold' Still Has Tickets

Tickets are still available for "Pot of Gold," an ancient but timeless Roman Comedy by Plautus, which will be presented by the University Theatre at 8:15 p.m. through Saturday in the main auditorium.

Admission will be 10 cents for University students, 25 cents for children for children, and $1 for adults. Tickets may be purchased at the University Box Office and reservations may be made by calling 353-8411, extension 3303, from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily.

Beer Party, Films On Tap For Dorms

Anderson and Bromfield Halls will be closing-out April with a full schedule of events. An awards banquet, a beer party and movies are all a part of the agenda.

An awards and scholarship banquet honoring the outstanding men of Bromfield Hall was held last Monday in the dining hall of Chapman Hall.

Residents of Bromfield Hall who had been active in organizing and supporting events sponsored by the hall were also given certificates for service.

Mr. William J. Beausay, instructor in sociology, was the guest speaker at the banquet. Father Wurzel of the Parish Center gave the invocation.

A chess and checkers tournament went on this week, along with doubles ping-pong tournament. Trophies will be awarded to the winners of each tournament.

The Mid-American room will be the scene of a mixer tonight from 9 until midnight. The mixer is open to all students.

In conjunction with Vietnam Week a movie, a display, and a guest speaker have all been tentatively scheduled by Thomas W. Faranda, Assistant Hall Director of Bromfield.

ANDERSON HALL

"A different residence hall event."

"The biggest event of Anderson Hall this year."

This is how Daniel R. Nagy, Assistant Hall Director of Anderson Hall, describes the beer party to be held for the residents of Anderson Hall from 8 until midnight, tonight at the Bowling Green Armory.

The party will feature Katina, an Oriental dancer, who will perform two separate shows at the party.

The party will be open only to Anderson residents and their date and women from Dunbar Hall.

FOUNDERS-RODGERS

Little Sis Weekend and the Founders-Rodgers dinner-dance will be held this weekend.

The dinner-dance, to be held from 7 p.m. to midnight Saturday, is open to residents of Founders and Rodgers and their guests. A $2 fee will be charged for non-University guests.

The queen of the dance will be selected by the men of Rodgers from eight candidates elected by the women of Founders.

Residents of McDonald and Alice Prout halls will host their sisters this weekend.

Activities planned include an ice skating party given by McDonald East from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday and a movie, the "Chalk Garden," at 8 p.m. in West cafeteria sponsored by McDonald Quadrangle.

The War Game Unlike Any Flick

The film is over, and the screen is black; but yet the audience sits--stunned and silent.

This has been the general reaction of audiences throughout the country who have seen "The War Game." The film is unlike any other film ever produced; and the game is unlike any other game ever played.

"The War Game," to be shown on campus as part of Viet Nam week, is the story of a hypothetical nuclear attack on Britain. The alleged background of the assault rings with a disturbing tone of reality; China comes to the aid of the North Vietnamese and the United States is forced to respond. Berlin is quick to go up in flames. Then missiles are aimed at military installations in Britain.

Critics have described "The War Game" as "ultra-bold" because it dares to begin where other movies such as "On the Beach," "Dr. Strangelove" and "Fail Safe" leave off. It begins rather than ends when the bomb is dropped.

Admission is $1 and tickets will be available at the door. "The War Game" will be shown at the following times and places: Sunday -- University Main Auditorium, 4 p.m., 8 p.m., and 10 p.m.; Monday -- United Christian Fellowship Center, 10 a.m., 7 p.m., and 10 p.m.; Tuesday -- UCF Center, 10 a.m., 7 p.m., and 10 p.m.; and Wednesday -- St. Mark's Lutheran Church, 8 p.m., and UCF Center, 10 p.m.

The Film is presented by the UCF with the support of St. Thomas More Chapel.

Tennis Team Seeks Weekend Wins Over Miami, Wayne St.

Bowling Green's varsity tennis team will be in action against Miami, Friday April 26 and then tangle the following day with non-conference opponent Wayne State, both matches at the BG courts.

The Falcons will take a 5-2 mark, 2-1 in the conference, against the Redskin netters.

Miami will field an inexperienced team for the match, with senior Bob Armstrong, the only returning letterman.

"They're having a very poor year, mainly because they've had little to start with," commented Falcon coach Robert Keefe.

"Ball State, a team we shut out 9-0 beat them 7-2, and Dayton topped them 6-3," said Keefe.

Besides Armstrong and junior Bob Raymond, Miami has 5 sophomores, Larry Alto, Joe Baker, Rick Grimes, Ken Lee, and Ken Villanova, on their 7 man roster.

Last year, Miami was easy pickings as they were trounced by BG 9-0. Their season's record of 6-6 and a sixth place finish in the MAC showed only one conference triumph, a 7-2 decision over the Thundering Herd from Marshall.

Saturday, April 27, will find Wayne State facing the Falcons in non-conference action.

"Lately, Wayne State hasn't been too good but they do use freshmen, so I don't know how they'll be this year," stated coach Keefe, adding, "they have had some good teams in the past though."

Singles matches have been the strong suit for the Falcons so far this season, as they have racked up an accumulative 32-10 edge over their opponents, led by Denny Cavanaugh and Trevor Weiss 7-0, and the 6-1 records of Mike Miller and Mike Costello.

Doubles competition has been a different story, Bowling Green on the short end of a 10-11 mark. Top slate of 5-2 has been compiled by the combo of Costello and Dan Norris.

BG will be using these two matches as their last tune up for next Tuesday's clash with Toledo, 1967 MAC tennis champion.

BG Stickers Plan Changes For Kenyon Lord's Match

By GARY DAVIS
Assistant Sports Editor

Switch one of your leading scorers from his midfield slot defense to give added experience and aggressive play, since when?

Since this week.

When Falcons lacrosse team travels to Kenyon this Saturday in hopes of bettering their 2-2 record, a strengthened defense will hold the key to their hopes. Midfielder John Feasel has been moved up to the crease defense position in recent practices and is scheduled to start against the Lords.

"He did a real fine job for us as a freshman on defense," said Cochrane.

The senior veteran has scored 10 goals for the Falcons this season, but Cochrane's experiment should bring a balance between the defensive and offensive units that has not existed to date.

"Sure it'll take something off our offense, but we should still be strong enough there," added the tutor.

With the season only four games old, the Falcons do not count themselves out of the Midwest race despite even their 16-7 loss to defending champ Denison. The Big Red meet Ohio State this weekend and could throw the standings into a muddle by losing.

There are several fine teams around the circuit this season, so no crowns will be clinched easily.

When the Falcons travel to Kenyon this weekend for their match they'll be facing one of the Midwest's high finishers from last season, with a 7-2 record. The Lords have been anything but hot on that pace this year, however.

Kenyon stands 2-3 on the season, having gained only a win over Michigan State and 9-6 over Cleveland Club.

The Lords have lost dropped matches to Ohio Wesleyan 4-10, Oberlin 2-13 and 6-8 to Wooster. They have had their offensive problems with only an 5.6 average despite the return of their entire unit from last year. Jack Trumbull who scored nine goals and 10 assists last year, Paul Day with 15 and two, and Ralph Poole with six and nine comprise the starting unit, for 68.

Paul Rigali is the only returnee on the first midfield unit while most of the second unit is in tact. "They have pretty much the nucleus of a returning midfield," said Cochrane.

Although the Lords were not a high scoring team last season, "they were good enough to do the job," said the coach. The emphasis came on defense last season, the one really questionable area for the hosts this season. With the entire attack back the Lords should be scoring much better, but Cochrane says the problem could lie in the defense.

"If the defense is not clearing the ball, the attack will not get the chances to score," warned the Falcon coach.

The 9-6 win by Kenyon over Cleveland Club (who has already topped BG 11-10 this season) causes the coach to hesitate from further comment.

He added that clearing is a combination chore of the defense and midfield, which are not strong areas for Kenyon. The Lords topped the Falcons 5-3 last year, but Cochrane doesn't expect them to be as strong this campaign.

Cochrane was somewhat optimistic though, when sizing up the changes in his own team. "We have had good practices this week on both Tuesday and Wednesday, and we are not counting ourselves out of this race."

Feasel will join Bob Bartels on defense, with either Pete O'Donnell or Gerry Pedoto scheduled to round out the unit.

Filling Feasel's midfield position will be Joe Zimmerman. The sophomore sticker has been seeing action on both the attack and midfield this week and according to Cochrane he'll be tried at both during the Kenyon game.

At 2:00 tomorrow the stickers hope to begin a new chapter in the '68 season.

Golfers Bow To Toledo

The Falcon golf team was beating the visiting Rockets, yesterday afternoon, until the final foursome presented their scorecards, reversing the outcome to a 14 1/2- 9 1/2 Toledo victory.

The home club now has a 3-9 record while the winners won their fourth straight match to give them a 4-1-1 log.

The University's nine hole course will again be the site for tomorrow morning's match against Findlay, but so far the weather has just about nullified the home "advantage." Coach Forrest Creason still seeking the best combination of golfers before Sunday's Mid-American Invitational, plans to try two new men, Rodney Hill and Sid Rodeheffer for the 9 a.m. tee-off.

The Toledo match was decided by the end men, number one man, Tom Bohardt, and bringing up the rear, Jim Seving.

Both had bad days with rounds of 85 and 90, and each lost all four match points. With the temperature in the "30's", junior Greg Monroe somehow shot an incredible 37-37-74, two-under par round for the day's best score. Mike McCullough's 78 was the second best score, while the Rocket medalist was Phil Lewandowski with a 79 topping his opponent Mike Lott by 2 strokes.

After Lott's match, B-G led 8 1/2 - 7 1/2, but Pat Mooney and John Fisher posted an 81 and 83 respectively to take 7 of the 8 match points from Dave Traphagen and Seving.

The Frosh golf team took a victory from Toledo, however, in their first match by the score of 15 1/2 - 8 1/2.

Irish To Invade BG For Chilly Twin-Bill

By TOM HINE
Sports Editor

Neither rain nor sleet nor all kinds of other disagreeable brands of weather can stop mallmen and if you ask Dick Young, it doesn't put a halt to baseball either.

With recent temperatures hovering in the 30's and a two game series with Notre Dame slated for today and tomorrow (at 3:30 and 1 p.m. respectively) one might fear the cold will keep the Falcons home.

Not so.

"If it's above thirty degrees we'll play," said Young yesterday, maintaining that "safety is the whole thing by which we judge whether a game should be played or not."

Cold, figures Young, can be coped with in baseball as well as in other sports, but "when it gets wet and slippery and there is a danger of someone being hurt, we don't play."

It might not be "wet and slippery" when BG takes on the Irish today, but from the sounds of some of the Notre Dame players, Dick Young is a bit worried about playing anyway.

Among the names that figure to appear in the ND lineup are ones most sports fans associate with games other than baseball.

Kevin Hardy, a standout grinder for Ara Parseghian's football forces and a man Dick Young calls "a big bear that can knock the ball clear out of the park."

Another put in the same category by Young is Dick Licine, "a switch-hitter with power." Young recalls battling practice before last season's game with Notre Dame, in which both Hardy and Licine "were blasting the ball out of the park as fast as the pitchers could serve them up."

Both, according to the Falcon skipper, have "major league power."

Among the pitchers, Young is familiar with just one of the probable starters in the weekend series, and he too is noted for talents in athletics outside the ball diamond.

Paul Arnzan, one of the top basketball players on Notre Dame's squad this past season, is a 6-6 pitcher and a man tabbed as "a top pro prospect" by Young.

Besides effective as a pitcher, Arnzan can wield a stick with some amount of authority as he demonstrated in last year's game with the Falcons. Arnzan rapped a single in the fourth inning to score a run.

For Bowling Green, the lineup looks no different from that used in past weeks.

Friday John Frobose gets the go-ahead from Young. The senior righthander has not yet been tearing up the opposition with a 5.42 earned run average and an 0-2 record, but according to his coach, "the records can be deceiving."

Young pointed out that Frobose (as well as several others on the Falcon staff) have been throwing against "rough" competition in comparison to what some of the other pitchers with better records have had to face.

Bill Bicker is the probable man to look for on the mound Saturday, though he may be brought in for relief rather than get the starting assignment. Doug Huwer is most likely to be used in relief in both games.

Around the horn, no changes are in the wind.

At first it should be Jim Bussman, with John Knox at second base. Mel Karnehm looks like the shortstop flanked by Russ Hagerty at third base. Eric Zinsmeister will catch.

Conigliaro's Switch Delayed

BOSTON (AP) - Tony Conigliaro's hopes of a possible baseball comeback as a pitcher are up in the air at the moment.

Conigliaro told newsmen Wednesday that doctors have warned him not to undergo any heavy physical activity at this time because it might detach the retina of his injured left eye. He indicated that this put a question mark on his thoughts of trying to return to baseball as a pitcher.

"Naturally he wasn't thinking of pitching this year anyway," the elder Conigliaro said. "But what constitutes 'heavy physical activity?'" He was still able to work out for a good hour just today at Fenway Park throwing to Red Sox pitching coach Darrell Johnson."

Tony C. was injured last Aug. 18 when hit high on the cheekbone by a pitch by Jack Hamilton of the California Angels.

The slugging outfielder missed the rest of the season and the World Series because of blurred vision.

He attempted to come back this spring, but his eyesight deteriorated and he finally had to give up the attempt. A new eye examination last month indicated he was through as a hitter, but there has been speculation he would try a comeback attempt on the mound—a position at which he starred all through high school ball.

Intramural Notes

Entries are now available for the all-campus golf, platform tennis, paddleball, and coed tennis tournaments. Entries are due May 7 and play begins on May 13.

Off-campus students may pick up entries at the IM office, Room 201, Memorial Hall.

The 1968 IM Track and Field Meet will be held Tuesday May 14 and Thursday May 16. Entries are due by May 7.

Thinclads Head For Relays

Members of the Bowling Green track team will participate in the Penn Relays on Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27 in Philadelphia, Penn.

Those participating in the field events for Bowling Green on Friday will be James Reardon, who will throw the discus; and Dan Litzinger who throws the hammer.

The three running event which also will be held on Friday are the distance medley relay, the 100 yard dash, and the sprint medley relay preliminary trials.

The distance medley relay consists of an 880 yard run, a 440 yard dash, a three quarter mile run, and ending with a mile run. The relay will be run by Ken Kelly, running the 880; Bob Horne running the 440; Bob Parks running the three quarter mile; and Paul Talkington running the mile.

Bobby M. James, sophomore in the College of Education, will run the 100 yard dash, and a 220 yard dash in the sprint medley relay.

The sprint medley relay consists of a 440 yard dash, two 220 yard dashes, and an 880 yard run. Those running for Bowling Green will be Horne in the 440; James, and Stan Allen, in the two 220s and Kelly in the 880.

On Saturday Talkington and Parks will run the two mile, and Sid Sink, will run the 3,000 meter steeplechase.

The sprint medley relay finals also will be held on Saturday. If Bowling Green qualifies in the preliminaries, they will compete in the finals.

The field events to be held on Saturday include the shot put, to be thrown by Merlyn Michaelis, the javelin will be thrown by Jeff Huston and Allen will participate in the high jump.
